The Daily Standard. Friday, September 23, 1870. Canadian Excise. It is exceedingly difficult to enact laws terests the best energies of the Emperor that will suit every interest, or be acceptable to every shade of opinion. In sian successes, began to remember than gislation some dominant interest very for over twenty years Napoleon III has often prevails, to the injury of one or more the faithful friend and ally of England; useful branches of industry. Wise legis- and that, owing to his power and influlation will, however, always adapt itself, ence, Frenchmen have been taught to fat as possible, to serve every interest; forget the years of opposing struggles, and when it is possible to serve all interests and injure none, it would be most This unification was inaugurated at the time of the first exhibition in Hyde Park,

Dining Room and Kitchen been induced to make these observations and has lasted to the present hour. The in view of the possible extension of the Canadian Excise laws to this country; for it is feared, and particularly by these most conversant with the subject, that the extension of the Excise laws of ceived words of sympathy and encourage and the conversant with the subject, that the extension of the Excise laws of ceived words of sympathy and encourage and the conversant with the subject, that the extension of the Excise laws of the ceived words of sympathy and encourage and the conversant with the subject. the Dominion to this country would most agement in the suppression of the revolt. the Dominion to this country would most materially affect brewers and distillers,—and, we regret to say, most unfavorably, too. We take it for granted that opinion generally is in favor of the immediate extension of the Canadian Tariff to this country, on Union taking place. The opinion is far from being unanimons, but it is, however, sufficiently strong to make it certain that the British Columbia Tariff will not be retained. Farmers are Tariff will not be retained. Farmers are agonizing disorder, affecting mind as perfectly willing to accept the tariff, if well as body—is a captive in the hands aome very slight amendment be made to of his enemies; and France—la belle afford a greater degree of protection to France!—drenched with blood. Her their produce, by means of harbor dues, levied at the ports of Victoria, New side by side with our own against an Westminster, and Nanaimo. This demand on the part of the farmers in the lower country is so very just and natural that we cannot see how it can be refused; while the implacable enemy, at the gates for such a concession to the agricultural interests would in no way interfere with mmerce in no way prevent or check subjection. It would be a stain on the the imports of general merchaudize—of national character, if England failed in manufactured goods and tropical productions. Besides it would leave the Cana-whelmed by her foes.—Communicated by ion tariff to be managed entirely by the an Englishman. Dominion Government. The tendency of spinion so far as we can gather it, is in favor of adopting such an expedient when the terms of Confederation shall come up for ratification. Now, assuming that no nable person will object to such a provision in the interest of agriculture, and that, if adopted, it will do no injury to other interests, whether commercial or manufacturing, we naturally recur again the readers of the Colonist must be very much to the question of the probable injury to enlightened by two scissors-editors. What a distillers and brewers, if the Canadian splendid paper it is to publish an article Excise on these industries be extended clipped from a contemporary, and nearly a here. If we are correctly informed, Mesers. Carrall and Trutch, in Ottawa, took their stand in negotiating terms that the entire Canadian Tariff and Exeise should be extended and enforced Dominion. On the other hand, Dr. poet, was handed to us for publication, yes Helmcken, with as much patriotism as terday : good judgment, urged that provision be made for protecting our industries. The result of the alleged divided opinion of our delegates, is that we have only two choices, that is, either to accept the Dominion Tariff and Excise, or retain the British Columbia Tariff and Excise for a fixed period. We have, in a former sene, urged that such a resolution was a mietake; and that a mean between the two extremes was the proper course to have adopted. If this had been agreed to the Excise laws of Canada might have been deferred for five or ten years with great advantage to brewers and distillers. As it is, there is no reason that without causing the least delay in the work of Coufederation. So far as we can discover, the distiller of spirits will be most seriously interfered with. The his place of business to the store adjoining the tariff on imported spirits will be 80 Colonial Hotel, Government street four doors cents per gallon under the Canadian tariff. Indications are not wanting to show that the current of feeling, both in England and America, which at the beginnine of the Franco-Prussian war, set almost wholly in favor of Prussia, is not so strong, and is even, perhaps, turning towards France. If public opinion was shocked at the Emperor's hasty appeal to MASONIC BALL. arms without, what might have appeared, a sufficient provocation, a sense of and fair-play should prevent our Columbia Royal Arch Chapter No. 120, adding to the humiliation of a brave nation the expression of foreign contempt. Some of the English papers, and notably the London Times, are accused, both by English and American journals, of downright dishonesty and distortion. The European Mail says: "The mendecity of a portion of the English press in reference to this struggle, and the one-sided tone of some of the remarks that have come before us, are enough to make one blush for the credit of English truthfulness;" and adds, "there should be no extelling of the deeds of one side to the STANDARD at the proper time and place will be promptly remedied on appmeation at the Publication Office, next door to the Bank of British Columbia, Government Street.

FROM NATION RIVER Yesterday morning a party of eight miners arrived from New Wes ninster, in a sloop. They are from the Omineca country. Among them were Messrs. Fraser and Smith, who came direct from Nation river, having left there on the 1st September. From Mr. Fraser we learn the following : There were three persons prospecting on Nation river, but found nothing to pay expenses. All of them have left and gone in other direcions prospecting. Black Jeck and John something to pay. Another party, named the McCann company got their cance capsized in Nation river, and lost six months provisions, which they had. This stopped any further prospecting with them. Peter Toy and his partner are making $6 per day each, on Findlay Branch. There is no later news from Vitalle creek, as the miners who came from there have been stopping on the road for sometime. Mr. Fraser and his partner inson. Mr. Pemberton gave the following judgment in this case, yesterday, after a long and patient hearing: "From the evidence adduced in this case, I have come to the conclusion that Robinson's Bill of Sale to Thomas Conlin, securing to him $250, is a fraud upon the creditors of the firm, from which he has retired. I therefore adjudge the goods seized to be in custody of the law for the benefit of the judgment creditors, Fell & Fin-layson." Mr. Pemberton further said: "I pronounce no opinion upon the validity o inson's promissory note to Conlin. But the object of the Statutes of Elizabeth was to protect creditors from those frauds which are so often practiced by debtors, under the preliberal a construction, or be too much extended in the suppression of fraud." The decision was a lengthy one, and showed that the case had been well studied by Mr. Pem-

Honolulu Correspondence.

HonoLULU, August 29th, 1870. EDITOR STANDARD :- Thinking a few lines from this place might be interesting to your numerous readers, I take this opportunity of sending you a short letter, by the barkentine Jane A. Falkenburg, which leaves for Portland on Tuesday morning. Honolulu, at all kinds is very much depressed, on account of sugar being scarce; one crop being shipped and the other not yet in; and another season. Everything is dried and dried up, in the shape of grazing lands. The weather, for the past month, has been the hottest ever known here, and there have been no trades, quite fresh at this writing. There has been no little excitement here, for the past week, over the presence of the Coolie ship Dolores Ugarte, from Macao, and bound to Peru with five hundred Coolies, which arrived here last week, the Captain having orders from his connoitered the fortifications on the northern side of the city.

London, Sept. 22.—King William reports to the Queen that the investment of Paris is land them, which was granted. The Captain landed some forty-two, hired a house and provided them with all the necessaries they required. The day after landing the Coolies
